

National Air & Space Museum
Stephen F. Udvar Hazy Center

Special arrangements have been made for The Golden Eagles to tour the Udvar - Hazy Center at the Dulles Annex of the National Air & Space Museum on the morning of Friday, April 9. Our customized docent-guided tour will focus on aircraft and spacecraft our members have flown or flown against. Our plan is for several of our participating members to add to the docents' remarks by sharing their own experiences.

For those who may not want to take the complete tour, there will be liberal access to the IMAX theater to watch spectacular 4D aviation-themed movies.

The new restaurant under construction at Udvar-Hazy is unlikely to be operating on the date of our event and there are no other food vendors on site. Arrangements for box lunches are being considered.

Free bus transportation will be available for the first 110 folks who sign up. If you drive your own vehicle there will be a $12 fee per vehicle paid by electronic means before exiting the facility.
